Minnesota is the state with the third-most Fortune 500 companies per capita, and also boasts a thriving and innovative startup scene.

DevOpsDays Minneapolis 2014 brought together our local DevOps practitioners with national and international leaders in the space. The 2015 event will be an essential place to connect, learn, and share experiences.

Sponsorship of this conference raises an organization's visibility in the DevOps community. There are also opportunities for exclusive special sponsorships including a speakers' dinner.
